

KARL JORN WEDS AGAIN IN SECRET; SAILS WITH BRIDE

Metropolitan Tenor Breaks Concert Engagements Because Both Are Homesick.

KEEPS ROMANCE QUIET;

Gave Up First Wife to Berlin
Dentist—Second is From Pennsylvania.

Karl Jorn, the famous German tenor, who has been under contract with the Metropolitan Opera House for the last two seasons, and who a year ago relinquished his wife to a Berlin dentist, ending her with $25,000, and bidding her to be happy in her new choice, sailed today on the Holland-American liner Rotterdam with a new bride to whom he was secretly married in Pennsylvania more than a month ago.

The singer is as secret about his latest adventure as he was frank concerning the friendly arrangement with his first wife by which he released her in favor of Dr. William Miederer. Not even to his intimate friend and manager, Frederick J. Turner, did he disclose the identity of his second wife or under what circumstances the romance developed.

In sailing on his present honeymoon Jorn abandons thousands of dollars. During a mysterious absence of a month, during which time he was getting married, Mr. Turner looked for a long lecture tour for the summer months. The tenor repudiated these engagements on the spur of the moment and booked passage for himself and bride on the Rotterdam without his manager's knowledge.

"On Private Enterprise."

Two months ago, after the termination of his engagement with the Metropolitan Opera-House Company, Jorn told his manager he was going on a private enterprise. He did not say where he was going or when he would be back. He told Mr. Turner that he would be willing to go on concert tour, beginning the latter part of May.

The singer completely vanished from his manager's ken the day he left him at the Hotel Astor. A month passed before Mr. Turner got a telegram from a little town in Pennsylvania. In this despatch Jorn said, "Am married and very happy." Again he dropped out of sight and Turner heard nothing of him till four days ago, when he got another telegram containing, "I had news; am homesick."

Saturday morning Jorn came back to earth in the Metropolitan Opera House. There was no one there but the watchman.

"Where are all the artists gone?" he asked.

"To Europe," replied the watchman.

So He Went Too.

"I'll go too," said John, and he sped down to the Holland-American line offices and bought tickets for himself and bride on the Rotterdam. Then he went up to the Astor and broke the news to his manager.

"What about your tour?" asked Mr. Turner.

"It makes no difference," cried Jorn, "I'm homesick and my wife's homesick. She's German and I'm not."

That was his first and last word concerning the identity of his bride and their romance. He got her aboard the Rotterdam so quietly to-day that no one saw her, and before the liner sailed he got inside his stateroom with her and carried the door to all who sought to interview him.

When the first Frau Jorn announced her love for the Berlin dentist and her wish to be rid of the bonds that united her to Jorn she said:

"It was cold and joyless. In my home there was the frigid atmosphere of great artists who were wrapped up in their art, which had become their real love. Such a man has no right to marry, no right to claim the affection of a warm-hearted woman."

BRYAN, DIX'S GUEST.
TALKS TO LEGISLATURE.

Urges Federal Income Tax and Direct Election of Senators as Good Doctrines.

ALBANY, May 23.—William Jennings Bryan addressed the Legislature at noon today and attended an informal reception and luncheon given in his honor at the Ten Eyck Hotel by former State Comptroller H. Glynn. To-night he will lecture at the Armory under the joint auspices of the Tenth Regiment and the Albany Civic League. He will be entertained at dinner in the executive mansion by Gov. and Mrs. Dix.

In his address to the Legislature Mr. Bryan advocated the endorsement of the Federal income tax, election of United States Senators by popular vote and direct primaries.

TOLD TO HIT IT UP BY COP; HE DID SO AND WAS PINCHED

Then Judge Was Sorry He Couldn't Fine the Merry Blue-coat Instead of Chauffeur.

"Too bad we can't have that policeman here and make him pay your fine," remarked Magistrate Marsh at Stapleton today as he fined Walter Walsh a chauffeur brought before him for over-speeding. The fine was $5 and Walsh paid it.

Walsh is employed by A. M. Loomridge of No. 170 West Seventy-seventh street, Manhattan, he says. He had been in New Jersey and was returning to Manhattan by way of Richmond Borough. He said that he was coming along the Amboy Road at a slow pace, having plenty of time, when a bicycle policeman hailed him and asked if he was going to St. George ferry. Walsh said he was and the policeman asked a lift. They were driven to Gracieville. The policeman entered the car and he jogged along. In Stapleton the policeman remarked they had only two minutes to make the boat.

"Can you do it?" Walsh says the policeman asked. "Sure, if you say so," Walsh replied.

He was told to go ahead and was hitting thirty-five miles when Bicycle Policeman Veck held him up at Tompkinsville and arrested him. The policeman urged him to hit it up, went on to the ferry leaving Walsh to care for himself.

SENATE PASSES POLICE BILL.

Nullifies Hingham's Measure; Modifies Commissioner's Powers.

ALBANY, May 23.—The Rumpelberger bill, which provides that no member of the police force of any city in the State shall be removed from office, suspended, reduced or disciplined except on written charges and after a trial, was passed by the Senate this afternoon.

The bill repeals all laws inconsistent with it and nullifies the Hingham law and the portion of the second class cities charter regarding the dismissal of policemen. It now goes to the Assembly.

AEROPLANE WING BRUSHES A PEAK AS VEDRINE FLIES

Aviators Reach San Sebastian
in Paris-Madrid Race,
After Perils.

ST. SEBASTIAN, Spain, May 23.—Aviator Vedrine arrived here at 10:45 o'clock this morning from Angoulême, having successfully covered the second stage of the Paris to Madrid aviation flight. He made a superb plane toward the earth and was acclaimed by a large crowd.

Vedrine said that he had not stopped after leaving Angoulême. He left French territory at Arcachon, and while passing the sea encountered dangerous air eddies. He almost experienced disaster near Fuenterrabia, where a wing of his machine grazed the peak of a huge rock.

Garron, who started from Angoulême at 11:45 o'clock this morning, successfully crossed the Bay of Biscay and arrived here at 11:30 o'clock. He was forced to stop two hours for fuel.

ANGOULEME, France, May 22.—Before an animated crowd the Angoulême-St. Sebastian stage for the Petit Parisien prize of $20,000 was inaugurated here today.

The first stage of the flight contest from Bay-le-Moleneux, just outside Paris, to Angoulême, was begun on Sunday. On account of the accident, however, which resulted in the death of Secretary of War Berteaux and the injury to Premier Monis, all of the contestants were not able to get away.

Some of the aviators, including Train, whose machine was the cause of the tragedy, retired permanently from the competition.

Vedrine, Gilbert and Garron covered the first stage, 219 miles up to yesterday afternoon.

Gilbert landed at Biarritz at 9 o'clock to take on a supply of oil. He declared he had lost his way in the fog and that he had been flying over the sea two hours.

$400 SENT TO PAY TAX IS ADDED TO CONSCIENCE FUND

Anonymous Letter Decries
Personal Property Assessment "Wealthy Avoid."

Comptroller Prendergast has received from Corporation Counsel Watson the following communication with inclosure: "Dear Mr. Prendergast, I am writing you, William A. Prendergast, Comptroller."

"Dear Mr. Prendergast: In an envelope directed 'Bureau of Collection of Personal Taxes, 280 Broadway, New York City,' there was inclosed $400 in currency, accompanied by a letter which read as follows:

"Commissioner of Taxes: Inclosed you will find $400, approximately the amount I was taxed on personal property a while ago. I understand all about the tax on personal property, but when I tell you that this is about one-fourth my income you will understand why I object to complying with a law so arranged that people of wealth can use the city and pay nothing, while those who can barely exist on small incomes are hit."

"If my name were still on the list I would use some of the many legal ways of escaping the tax. I am paying for that one year because I do not like the method by which my name was removed from the list."

"I have conferred with the head of my personal tax bureau, who brought the matter at once to my attention, and find there is no due known to me where by our anonymous correspondent may be discovered. Under the circumstances, I suppose you should credit the amount to the 'Conscience Fund,' for whose machine I beg herewith to hand you the said $400 in currency, together with the anonymous letter and the envelope containing the same."

"Respectfully,
"ARCHIBALD R. WATSON."

WOMEN GLOBE TROTTERS HOME FROM THEIR TRIP.

Met Here by Woman Who Had Taken Opposite Route Round the World.

Mrs. John Stillman Bliss, of Brooklyn, and Mrs. Joseph William Vail, who lives at the Hotel Latham, arrived on the Hyndam, of the Holland-American line. Both are widows. They have been making a tour of the world. They were met at the dock by Mrs. George H. Hoyt, of Stamford, Conn., who made a trip from an opposite direction around the world at the same time her friends started. They met and held a reunion at Yokohama and to-night will hold another session in honor of the tour at the home of Mrs. Bliss.

The women said they found no place around the circle where they were not treated with the utmost consideration. In the Orient when they told men they met that they had no escorts they found that the men telegraphed ahead and made special arrangements for their comfort. They agreed that the most beautiful women on the tour were the Malay women, who had the Greek type of beauty.

NEGRO'S VICTIM DIES.

Another Added to Death List of John Cain.

Still another name was added today to the list of those who fell before the mad fury of John Cain, the razor-shaving and revolver-wielding negro who left a wake of dead and dying behind him as he sped through Harlem's streets the night of May 17.

Albert Lumbom, thirty-one years of age, a driver, of No. 106 Manhattan avenue, who was cut down by Cain's razor, died this afternoon at the J. H. Wood Wright Hospital.

MAY BE NEGRO WARSHIP.

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands, May 23.—The greatest curiosity attaches here to the presence of a cruiser ship flying the German commercial flag and bearing the name "Grossa Luia."

The vessel is of recent construction and is fitted with modern armament. She carries sixteen guns and has a cargo of ammunition. The crew numbers sixty-one.

The cruiser is reported to be destined for the Republic of Liberia.

DEMOCRATS MUST KEEP PLEDGES, SAYS OSBORNE.

Resigned Member of Dix "Cabinet"
Sails for Tour of Europe
With Son.

Thomas Mott Osborne, who left the "cabinet" of Gov. Dix because of ill-health, sent his compliments to the Democratic party in New York as he sailed away today on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and pointed this path to them if they would win the next election.

"Democratic success depends upon keeping the promises we made in the last election to those Republicans who voted with us at that time."

Mr. Osborne did not seem to be in good health. His son, Robert K. Osborne, went with him. They go first to Boston, where Litchgow, another son, is a student. Then they will tour the Continent for two months. He refused to talk about the confirmation of Justice Daniel Coahalan, and said, when asked what hope the Republicans of the State had:

"They are a mighty encephalic lot." He thought the Democratic State League would have a large share in the coming campaign, and that it was left in good hands during his own absence.

A PIANO EXPOSITION

With an Educational Purpose (Not a Sale)

Opening Tomorrow at WANAMAKER'S

It includes an extraordinary display of upright and grand pianos in specially designed and embellished cases, and, with every approved type of piano and player-piano, it is representative of the sincerest work of American Piano makers—the best in the world.

We shall find pleasure in giving up one spot out of all this busy town to things that represent beauty at its best and most potent. The Auditorium has been put in gala trim and a number of artists whose names are well-known to New Yorkers have been engaged to assist us in a musical festival that will form a notable part of the event.

Concerts will be given each afternoon beginning at One o'clock. Special organ recitals will be given in the mornings.

One hundred and twelve instruments have been arranged for special view in the beautifully decorated Auditorium. No two alike—each is individual in style, model and design. The prices—as we may mention for the sake of illustration—range from $195 to $2,925.

Since any one of these instruments may be purchased here any day, this remarkable display is intended primarily as a COMMENTARY on the scope of this Piano Store.

The exposition is not organized for sales. Three wishes are behind it. We have wished:

To make it as a light held aloft by which you may read the answer to every piano question that there is.

To spread before you—FRANKLY AS AN OPEN-ED BOOK—virtually all that the world knows about pianos.

To make VISIBLE an ideal of universal service, that we have held since the beginning.

An important feature of this event is a most comprehensive exhibit of the work of the modern geniuses—half artist and half mechanic—who have brought the player-piano to its present state of perfection.

This Unique Display Includes:

Grand and upright pianos and conventional and specially designed cases by Chickering & Sons; upright and grand pianos and Player pianos in conventional designs by the Scho-macker Piano Company; upright and grand pianos, player pianos and player grand pianos by the Emerson Piano Company; upright pianos and player pianos by the Lindeman & Sons Piano Company; upright and player pianos by Kohler & Campbell and upright pianos by Kurtzmann and Company.

Piano Players (the Angelus) by Wilcox & White.

A superb collection of upright and grand pianos and player pianos in cases of special, conventional and "period" designs by William Knabe & Co.

It is probable that no such exposition of applied art in piano cases has ever before been shown by a retail establishment.

The styles and decorations represented in upright and grand pianos here include Colonial, Sheraton, Georgian Empire, Heppelwhite, Louis XV., Louis XVI., Vernis-Martin, Dutch and Flemish.

And away back at the beginning of it all is this idea: In this age we often are fooled—we often fool ourselves—by considerations of size. An institution—like a man—can be no greater than its intentions no matter what its size. And again: Beauty IS truth. Music is synonymous with beauty—in many phases at least. To our mind the general love of music shown by the wide popularity of the piano merely indicates the instinctive reaching out of humanity for the things that are beautiful—true. So pianos should be made in sincerity. They should be sold in sincerity—whether the price be $195 or $3,000. Such has been our purpose—our intention. So we have considered it and so we have worked. Thus it occurs that an exposition of this kind—unique and brilliant as it is—only fittingly represents a service that we are enabled to render day by day.

Instruments shown may be purchased. Their duplicates, with relatively few exceptions, may be found and tried in the Piano Salons. With the sale of instruments in specially designed cases which may not immediately be replaced, we shall request the privilege of delaying delivery until the close of the exposition.
